For Immediate Release: October 22, 2009

Washington DC - In a letter to the House Homeland Security Committee today, Congressman Duncan Hunter raised concerns about existing legal authority to build tactical infrastructure on the Southwest border. Specifically, the letter called for a hearing on H.R. 3289, bipartisan legislation introduced by Congressman Hunter, and recommended the bill be incorporated into broader legislation set to be considered by the Committee.

Click here to view Congressman Hunter's letter to Homeland Security Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson and Ranking Member Peter King.