For Immediate Release: May 12, 2011

Washington D.C.—Today, U.S. Congressman Duncan Hunter personally viewed photographs of Osama Bin Laden after he was killed by U.S. Special Forces in Pakistan. As a member of the House Armed Services Committee, Hunter was provided the opportunity to view the photographs along with other selected House members at the Central Intelligence Agency headquarters in Langley, Virginia.

“The series of photographs clearly show Osama Bin Laden from the time after the raid to his burial at sea,” said Congressman Hunter. “Our nation’s Special Forces did an exceptional job and deserve great credit for their work.”